Gentlemen:

For the past five years, Dr. Domingo Aviado has received a Special Fund 4 grant in support of his consulting activities in the smoking and health area. In 1984, the amount of the grant was $102,000 for professional time and expenses. We recommend that Dr. Aviado be given support in 1985 in the same amount ($102,000) to be funded again through Special Fund 4.

As in previous years, Dr. Aviado has performed consultancy work through a professional corporation named Atmospheric Health Sciences, Inc. During 1984, he devoted approximately 204 days of the working year to projects related to smoking and health. These projects included his ongoing review of generally relevant literature, special reviews of literature relating to bronchogenic carcinoma, environmental carcinogenesis and pulmonary metastases, analysis of environmental tobacco smoke materials and preparation of related critiques, attendance at various scientific meetings, work on the smoking aboard aircraft issue and participation at a CAB hearing, and analysis of studies involving atherosclerosis and smoking behavior. Dr. Aviado has been especially busy in the last few months working with the newly formed industry committee on environmental tobacco smoke.

Dr. Aviado continued his informal association with the EPA Clean Air Advisory Committee and other governmental groups. Such work, along with his occasional consultation with chemical and pharmaceutical companies, made Dr. Aviado a valuable source of information for us. He also continues to be helpful in identifying possible medical consultants in the New Jersey area.

During 1984, Dr. Aviado was very active in the American College of Clinical Pharmacology and served as interim Editor of the Journal of Clinical Pharmacology for part of the year. He also maintained his status as a well known scientist by publishing several papers and co-editing a medical textbook.

We have reviewed Dr. Aviado's activities for 1984 and feel that renewed support is warranted. As in previous years, we will review the grant at the end of the year to determine whether a similar consulting arrangement is advisable for 1986. An early response to this recommendation would be appreciated.

Sincerely,

Patrick M. Sirridge
